NALAG (Vic) EDUCATION PROGRAM 2012
NONFINITE LOSS & GRIEF

Time: 9.30am - 4.30pm (Registration from 9.00am)
Date: Tuesday November 13th, 2012
Venue: Hotel Grand Chancellor, 131 Lonsdale St, Melbourne
Cost: NALAG Member/Conc/Student $180 Non Member $220

Overview
This one day workshop, ‘Nonfinite Loss and Grief’, (ie grief that is ongoing and changing as life continually falls short of expectations), will explore the leading theories on loss and discover how the grieving and therapeutic processes for dealing with nonfinite loss differ from finite loss (e.g. death).

You will examine real-life case studies, the grieving of individuals experiencing nonfinite loss and how the suggested therapeutic techniques work. The skills and knowledge taken from this workshop will be able to be related immediately to professional and personal situations.

Aims / Objectives:
To provide participants with an overview of nonfinite loss and grief theory and practice
To provide participants with strategies for use in their lives and the life of their community
To allow participants to delve into the theory underpinning the concept of ‘nonfinite loss and grief’

Registration includes:
Workbook
A Certificate of Attainment
Morning/Afternoon tea/lunch

Target Audience:
Counsellors, Nurses, Social Workers, Psychologists, Teachers, Emergency Services staff and others in a helping role.

Presenter:
Tim Adam is a qualified social worker who has worked in the welfare field for over 19 years. He has a varied background including teaching, training, supervision, management, case management and counselling. He has worked in both government and non-government sectors on homelessness, child protection, family support, parental separation, men's violence, chronic conditions, addictions and bereavement. Tim has experience working with people of all ages. Loss and grief has been a focus and special interest of Tim's work for over 10 years.
